

Experiment Is Blamed for 'Fall Out'

LONDON (AP) — A secret experiment with H-bomb material was blamed in a newspaper report today for the accident which recently poured radioactive dust onto farms around the big Windscale atomic plant in Northwest England.

The Daily Express said a canister of H-bomb material was being "cooked" in unusual heat in one of the plant's uranium furnaces.

The accident, Oct. 10, spewed radioactive dust from a chimney of the plant, which produces plutonium triggers for Britain's nuclear weapons.

Since then milk from 700 farms in 200 square miles around the plant, in Cumberland near the Scottish border, has been condemned. Farmers have been unable to sell their cattle, although assured by the government that the animals suffered no permanent injury.

The Atomic Energy Authority has announced that the furnace involved will be out of action "for some months."

The authority said radioactive dust escaped after a pilot over-heated and caused of the accident could not be announced.

The Daily Express reported that scientists had told about insertion of a canister of H-bomb material in the pile. The paper said: "The canister of H-bomb material in the pile. The paper said: 'The canister, which scientists referred to yesterday as 'an extremely interesting egg,' could not possible explode.

"But it began to react in an unexpected way when the temperature of the furnace was raised during a routine operation.

"Intense heat in the heart of the furnace split the aluminum covers of the furnace's uranium fuel rods. The uranium, caught fire. Radioactive dust swept up the chimney."

Blames Duke for Loss of an Eye

CATTERICK, England (AP) — The husband of 27-year-old Mrs. Edna Mackie said today she had been blinded in one eye by a firecracker thrown at an army going-away party in which one of the leading lights was the Duke of Kent.

The duke, a 22-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, and other young lieutenants at Catterick training camp last week pulled an outbound troop train with rotten apples and bags of flour.

Mackie said his wife was standing a few yards away watching the sport when a firecracker thrown from the train exploded in her face.

He added that an army eye specialist at the camp where Mrs. Mackie is a civilian clerk "has performed an operation but as far as we can tell she lost sight of one eye completely."

A spokesman for Kent's regiment, the Royal Scots Greys, conceded that the Duke took part in the horseplay but said, "He was not involved in this accident."

Car Plunges Into Canal, 7 Drown

NAPLES, Fla. (AP) — A car plunged into a canal beside the Naples-Miami road early Sunday and all seven of its occupants drowned.

A Negro dance band known as the House Rockers was returning in two cars to Miami after a playing date Saturday night in Fort Myers. One of the cars went off the side, drowning three men and women, all members of the band, and the 8-month-old son of one of the victims.

Police said the car's driver apparently dozed at the wheel. The victims, all of Miami, were Herbert Blatch, 30; Mrs. Barbara Jean Blatch, 33; Mary Louise Campbell, 21; her son Hugh Mack, 21; Kenneth Simmons, 33; and Een Williams, 20.

Proclamation

WHEREAS Trick or Treat for UNICEF began as an unselfish attempt of American children to help their underprivileged brothers abroad by sending their treats of small coins to UNICEF for "all the world's children"; and

WHEREAS Trick or Treat for UNICEF over the years has created a new tradition which permits our American children to express their desire for fun on Halloween in a constructive spirit of generosity and goodwill; and

WHEREAS UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, is being helped by American children to aid 45 million children and mothers in 95 countries and territories by sending UNICEF milk, vitamins, and medicines, and is overcoming ignorance and superstition with sound mother and child care.

NOW THEREFORE, I, George Plazier, Mayor of the City of Hope, do hereby proclaim October 27th as UNICEF Day, and urge every citizen of Hope to cooperate with properly identified UNICEF Trick or Treaters so that these children may be helped to help others, in witness whereof I have set my hand and seal of the City of Hope, to be affixed this 24 day of October, nineteen hundred and fifty seven.

A fat man has a thin soul — Welsh proverb.

Nobody loves a fat man — American proverb.

A fat man is no good in war; he can neither fight nor run away — another American proverb.

Has the fat man no answer to the barrage of insults he meets except a cheerful smile? Yes, happily, he has literary friends.

Washington Irving, who threw a wide shadow himself, pointed out that the fat man is of an essentially peaceful nature.

"Who ever hears," he asked, "of fat men heading a riot, or herding together in turbulent mobs?"

The tolerance of the fat man is proverbial. He takes his philosophy from Ecclesiastes: "A man hath no better thing under the sun than to eat and to drink, and to be merry."

The fat man can console himself also with the fact that, unlike the after World War II as counsel for the old Senate War Investigating Committee and the Senate Investigations subcommittee. He is generally liked by legislators.

Although his confirmation seems certain, the 44-year-old Rogers is expected to face some rugged questioning by Southern members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which will consider his nomination.

Southerners who commented on skinny man, he is no hypocrite. As Bernard Shaw pointed out, "There is no love sincerer than the love of food."

Heaven itself is held out as a hope to the fat. In 1609 William Lithgow wrote: "He that eateth well sleepeth well, he that sleepeth well stinneth not, and he that stinneth not goeth straight through purgatory to paradise."

And where does that leave for skinny people to go? There is an old Italian proverb that aptly describes the fate of dieters who make a religion out of counting their calories. This is it: "Who fasts but does no other good, saves his bread but goes to hell."

Please pass the potatoes.

The changeover generally applauded Brownell's imminent departure. Some voiced the opinion Rogers would be an improvement.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas, a key figure in the federal-state controversy at Little Rock, declined comment on Brownell's resignation.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said, "I like Rogers very well. I don't know Mr. Brownell very well." He has been a critic of Brownell on civil rights matters.

Sen. Talmadge (D-Ga.) said he knows little about Rogers but that

Negro Singer in Plea of Guilty

NEW YORK (UP) — Singer Billy Daniels pleaded guilty Monday to illegal possession of a pistol. The conviction stemmed from the shooting of boxing trainer James R. Jackson in an after hours bottle club last year. Daniels, 42, was indicted for felonious assault in the shooting. A general sessions judge set Dec. 5 for sentencing on the gun possession charge.

"I understand he is close to Vice President Nixon and that certainly is not a good endorsement," said Rogers "will be a great improvement over Brownell who, in my opinion, is a conscienceless politician."

Brownell was one of Eisenhower's top political strategists. He managed Eisenhower's campaign for the presidency in 1952. A close friend of former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Brownell also managed Dewey's unsuccessful presidential campaign in 1948 and 1949.

DOROTHY DIX

Girl's Idea of Love Leaves Me Stone Cold.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm 19, my husband is 20 and we have a darling daughter 18 months old. I know we were young to get married, but we're in love, so nothing else matters.

The problem is that my husband drinks quite heavily. He gets drunk on Friday and stays that way until Monday. Of course he's wasting his money, which means that I don't get a cent from one week to the other. He keeps promising to do better, but never does. Do you think I should leave him, get a job, sit back and say nothing, or what?

WORRIED WIFE AND MOTHER

Dear Girl: You write, "we're in love, so nothing else matters." Is this strictly true? Doesn't it matter that your husband fails to support you and the baby? That he neglects you? Is, in short, failing in the very things that make a faithful, considerate husband? If that's your idea of love, deliver us from it.

In brief, hubby is sick and tired of being tied down with a family, and plays free as a breeze, on weekends. Take your troubles to a responsible adult in the family. Ask him (or her) to talk to your husband and point out the fact that he has to support his family. If he won't do it voluntarily, a court order will force the issue.

You both thought you were pretty grown up when you got married; now is the time to prove it. Don't leave; don't get a job (the baby needs you at home). Don't sit back placidly and watch a marriage go on the rocks, and a young man be the first passenger wrecked. Do a salvaging job by making your husband face his responsibilities.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have just been appointed devotional director of our women's club. It is my job to conduct prayers and direct the saying of Grace before we have refreshments. I've been told that I could obtain various forms of Grace from you (ours is an interdenominational group). I would be deeply appreciative if you could help me.

Dear M. F.: If you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope I'd be very happy to send you "Grace" in Catholic, Jewish and Protestant versions. I'm sure this will help with your problem.

Bobcats Going All Out After Favored Trojans

If the Bobcats defeat the Hot Springs Trojans tomorrow night, there will be a new star in the sky, which will outshine even "Sputnik."

The Bobcats will play host to the boys from the Big 8 Friday at 8 p.m. in what should be a real test for both teams. The Bobcats lead the current series which started in 1952. In that year the Cats won 28-7.

The following year Hope won 14-6. There was no game in 1954-55; however, it was a different story in 1956 when the Bobcats journeyed to Hot Springs, only to take a 19-6 loss at the hands of the Trojans.

The local boys have a 3-1 record, starting with a 45-4 win over Stampos. The following week Hope lost a heartbreaker to DeQueen by a slim margin of 13-12. The Bobcats bounced back to defeat an old conference foe, Smackover by a 10-7 score. After a two-week lay off because of "flu," the Cats defeated Fairview 25-6.

Hot Springs will be trying to even the series and spoil the Hope Homecoming. The Trojans have a 4-1-1 record, and would like nothing better than to add Hope's name to their tally sheet.

On the other hand, it is the Bobcat Homecoming and the Cats will be trying equally hard to defeat the Trojans.

The Bobcats looked good against Fairview, but had 130 yards knocked off in penalties alone. If the same thing happens against Hot Springs, it could be a tough night for Hope.

Monday the Bobcats had a good practice session and are in top physical condition with the exception of Jerry Franks, end, who will be out with an injured hand.

Alabama Is Looking for a New Coach

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Alabama's Crimson Tide, once one of the nation's most powerful football teams, is in the market for a new coach.

The Alabama Athletic Council announced last night that it would not recommend that Coach J. B. Whitworth's contract be renewed after it expires Dec. 1.

Whitworth came to Alabama from Oklahoma A&M in 1955, and his record for the 24 Tide games he has coached is 2 victories, 20 defeats and 2 ties.

Whitworth replaced Red Drew, who produced a 53-27 record. Before him were Frank Thomas (115-25-7) and Wallace Wade (61-13-3).

That's what the Alabama alumni can't forget—those Wade and Thomas teams.

Alabama opened the 1957 season with a 28-0 shellacking at the hands of Louisiana State and then traipsed up to Nashville to tie Vanderbilt 6-6. Those six points are all the Tide has scored this season.

Texas Christian University defeated Alabama 28-0, and Tennessee won its game 14-0.

Prominently mentioned to succeed Whitworth are Wade Walker of Mississippi State and Paul Bryant of Texas A&M. Bryant said he wouldn't consider such a proposal.

Auburn Gives Up the Least Yardage

NEW YORK (AP) — The Auburn Tigers, heling the tradition of Southern hospitality, continue as the stingiest group among the nation's major college football teams.

Undeclared Auburn has yielded an average of 157.8 yards a game to rank as the total defense leader to the second straight week. The Tigers who have allowed just one touchdown all season, also rate second to Iowa in defense against running plays.

Oklahoma State and Navy are tied for second in total defense with identical 108.8 yard averages per game. Princeton and Miami of Florida are close behind.

Iowa, in taking the lead in rushing defense, has allowed its opposition an average 58.5 yards on the ground. Georgia Tech tops the nation's colleges in pass defense, having permitted 30.8 air yards a game. Navy, however, boasts the best air defense percentage of .242.

UCLA, on the strength of its 51-yard average against Oregon State last Saturday, jumped into the top spot in punting. The Uclans have an average of 42.4 yards for their 30 efforts. Tennessee is second with 41.7.

U. S. Golfers Take Lead in Canada Meet

By WILL GRIMLEY

TOKYO (AP) — A course record 67 by Sam Snead and a 69 by Jimmy Demaret sent the United States off to an imposing five-stroke lead today in defense of the international Canada Cup gold championship.

Putting the Kasumigasaki Country Club's rough koral grass greens as if they were marble, the two veteran Yanks outclassed handicapped professional teams from 29 other nations in the opening round of the 72-hole medal play tournament.

Five strokes back in second place came the surprising Japanese tandem of Totsukichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono.

Kakamura, 42, a teaching professional, shot a 68, second only to Snead's record round. Ono fired 73 for 141.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Onetime top middleweight contender Bobby Boyd of Chicago scored a 10-round unanimous decision over Franz Sautzka of Germany last night in a bout that saw only the referee hit the deck.

Mitzi Gaynor Clicks in South Pacific

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Three years ago, Mitzi Gaynor was told by 20th Century-Fox that her services were no longer needed.

Today she's back on the lot with one of the prize roles of this or any other year.

She's playing Nellie Forbush, the pert nurse from Little Rock in "South Pacific." She was the only girl who tested for the role.

And what a sweet victory it was! Now she's welcomed back to the studio where she got her start in movies.

"They let me go just before I started 'There's No Business Like Show Business,'" Mitzi recalled in her dressing room. "No explanation. No farewells. They just told me my option would not be picked up.

"But I think it worked out for the best. I've been pretty lucky on the outside. Now, when I come back to the studio, they accept me as I am."

When she went out on her own, picking her roles carefully, Mitzi did pictures with Bing Crosby, Donald O'Connor and George C. Scott. Now she has two hits in the theaters — "The Joker is Wild" and "Les Girls."

How did she get to do Nellie? She auditioned for Oscar Hammerstein II while suffering from laryngitis, singing two "South Pacific" songs in the cavernous Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel.

Hammerstein's only comment: "Thank you. You're a good sport."

But the production minds got together and decided to give her a test. Then her confidence rose, since she knew no one else had

Girl Crushed by Father's Truck

POWHATAN (UP)—A six-year-old girl was crushed to death beneath her father's truck on the family farm near here yesterday.

She was Constance Diane Schaffer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Schaffer.

The girl's father said the child fell from the truck while he was hauling cattle feed and was run over by the truck. She died instantly.

He was driving the truck when it tested for the role.

As soon as the picture is over, she and husband Jack Schaffer are embarking on a round-the-world trip.

"Josh Logan talked me into it," she said. "I told him I had some other offers to consider after the picture, and he said I should get as far away from show business as possible."

Hopes Arkansas to Get a Judge Soon

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A federal official said yesterday he hoped a U. S. district judge would be named for the Eastern Arkansas district, which has been without a regular judge since Judge Thomas C. Trimble of Lonoke retired last June.

William L. Ellis of Washington, D. C., the new acting director of the Administrative Office of the United States Courts, added he had no idea of when a judge would be appointed.

Ellis stopped here en route to Hot Springs where he is scheduled to address federal probation officers at a regional meeting today.

Other federal districts without permanent judges have problems similar to Arkansas, Ellis said. He declined to speculate on the reason for delay in naming a new judge in Arkansas.

Woman Wins More Time to Appeal Case

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—A Little Rock woman won an extra 50 days yesterday to appeal an injunction by federal judge Ronald N. Davies against interference with the Little Rock School Board's gradual integration plan.

Davies prepared the order at his office in Fargo, N. Dak., and it was received by the Federal district clerk's office here yesterday. He advanced the deadline to Dec. 16 for Mrs. Clyde Y. Thomson to appeal his ruling of Aug. 28.

Mrs. Thomson, acting as recording secretary of the Mothers League of Central High with a temporary injunction from Chancellor Murray O. Reed to block the integration plan.

The school board however, appealed to federal court for an injunction to prevent its being held in contempt of court by obeying the chancery court order.

Davies enjoined "all persons" from interfering with the board's plan, and said no legal action should be taken that would cause the board to be in contempt of the Chancery Court.

Attorneys for Mrs. Thomson said the 50 days—in addition to the 40 originally allowed for appeal—were needed to perfect their appeal.

Self Diagnosis Proved Faulty

DETROIT (AP)—Convict Richard Saragossian's self-diagnosis of his leg ailment proved faulty. He said it was paralyzed and he couldn't walk.

Saragossian, 26, of Cornwall, Ont., was brought under guard from the Detroit House of Corrections to Receiving Hospital for an examination.

Left unguarded for a moment, he quickly slipped his handcuffs and fled. He was serving six months for assault.

Afghanistan's silk production has been highly increased by new types of mulberry leaves introduced from Japan.

clear depth charges for blasting enemy submarines, saying that these atomic weapons already are aboard some carriers of the Atlantic Fleet. The swiftly expanding Soviet submarine fleet is a source of grave concern to American strategists.

These followed closely the third successful test, on Tuesday, of an Army Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile. The Air Force has fired two successful Thor ICBMs. But to date, the only two attempts at full-scale tests of the Air Force intercontinental ballistic missile have been failures.

The Pacific test rocket far exceeded in height but hardly matched the popular appeal of Russia's Sputnik, the earth satellite which was nearing its 300th trip around the globe since it was launched Oct. 4. Sputnik was sent to a height of 560 miles as it was directed into an orbit.

Faubus Again Raps Use of U. S. Troops

By ED MARTIN

LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus last night accused the Federal government of letting the hoodlums "trample into the dust" the will of a majority of Southern citizens.

Faubus told a county judges' convention that in using troops at Little Rock Central High School, the government had taken a long stride toward destroying a republican form of government.

He vowed that he would continue on his "present course of defending the rights and privileges of the people by every proper and legal means."

Faubus spoke to about 450 persons at a meeting of the Arkansas County Judges Assn., one of the most powerful political organizations in the state.

Applause broke out frequently as he denounced the federal government and the Arkansas Gazette, a Little Rock newspaper which has been critical of the governor's actions in the integration crisis.

The organization adopted unanimously a resolution condemning President Eisenhower for sending troops to Little Rock and praising Faubus.

U. S. Trying to Place Blame in Syria Mess

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Faced with Syria's refusal to accept mediation of the Syrian-Turkish crisis, the United States today pressed anew for a U.N. investigation to pin point the real cause of the tension.

With Assembly debate on the crisis resuming tomorrow, U. S. delegates held intensive consultations with other diplomats on what action to take.

The United States has made known it approves Syria's suggestion for a U.N. inquiry commission but wants its scope broadened to determine who is behind the crisis.

Russia, accused by the United States of fomenting the current tension, wants the commission confined to investigating the situation along the Syrian-Turkish border. The Russian charge the United States is "spurring" the Turks to attack Syria.

Western diplomats have shown open concern over the belligerent approach the Soviets have taken in the Middle East debate.

One informed source said the West was even more concerned over reports that Russia is displaying the same tough attitude in private talks with her satellites.

The source said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko at a private meeting Sunday told satellite delegates and representatives of Syria, Egypt, Indonesia and India, that Russia is ready to use force in the Middle East.

Western diplomats said most Arab delegates favor mediation by Saudi Arabia's King Saud but hold little hope Syria will agree while Russia is pressing for a full debate.

Turkey welcomed Saudi's offer and sent emissaries to Saudi Arabia.

THE STORY: Squatters are coming onto the Block range and Taylor Kains, the foreman, is trying to drive them off with violence and cruelty. Into this situation rides Dave Sharadin, son of the owner, Bluet Sharadin. Dave is tired of violence after fighting three years in the Civil War.

CHAPTER XV

Riding the trail toward the Block S, Dave saw the log shack Prole had built in the timber at the mouth of a narrow valley, much too close to his father's headquarters. The main building was a low hut of two or three small rooms constructed from notched logs. Behind this loomed an unfinished barn and the indefinite pole outlines of a corral. A six-cow, beggarly affair.

Lou Bryn had thrown up another cabin much like this, then lazily run his pelted of faces about the graze. For that Block S had whipped him and turned him from the Padres. Prole had taken both water and canyon grass from the Sharadins and was still there.

Prole's shack would have to go. If they let him get away with this kind of thing, settlers would strangle Block S. Dave puzzled anew why his father had allowed Prole to remain.

Presently it occurred to him that Prole might have a particular place in this deal. His father could, conceivably, have some scheme with Prole, though what it might be Dave couldn't figure. He hauled the sorrel's head around, striking for the Block S trail.

The feeling of being watched was still with him. The warning became more insistent until his hand closed about his gun but. Now on the return through the timber his sorrel nickered excitedly. This was his warning another horse was drifting through the scrub brush nearby.

Anew he keened for sounds and finally caught the low tinkle of metal chains. Still he pushed on until the man loomed up and he recognized Ferris.

"Hold it!" Ferris ordered sharply. He drove his rowel points against his animal, crowding Dave's sorrel hard. In turn Dave brought down his rein ends on Ferris' animal. The horse snorted angrily and danced away a few feet.

There was a smoldering anger in the rough, unshaven face. Dave knew Ferris had not overlooked the way he had been outsmarted in front of the Empress. "Might as well get one thing hashed out," Ferris told him. "It don't mean a thing to the outfit whether you're Bluet's son or not. Kains runs this show. You don't count."

"Is that why you waited in the dark?" His words brought deeper resentment to Ferris' eyes. "No. You've got it wrong. I don't pick men off that way from the side of a trail. I want the gun. I'll take it back now."

So this was why Ferris had waited for him. Kains had not ordered the man to waylay him; this was something personal between Ferris and him, and Ferris was here after the gun Dave had taken from him. Probably Kains had ridden on to Block S without being aware that Dave was back in the Padres.

"Before I take that gun there's something else." "So?" Dave was cautiously alert. "Something that's coming to you for acting tough to a better man than you. Shuck both bolt guns. Then we'll see."

Dave caught the bitter resentment that broke through Ferris' voice. It was undoubtedly the first time any man had humbled Ferris.

Dave tossed his reins in order to ground tether the sorrel. Then he dropped from his saddle and slipped both his gun and Ferris' gun into his saddle bag. While he worked he heard Ferris hit the grass. Facing about, Ferris stood 10 feet away.

"I'm waiting, saddle tramp," Dave threw at Ferris. The words brought a growl of anger from Ferris and he came in on the run. The impact of the big man's charge knocked Dave reeling.

He struck the bristly faced man a staggering crack on the mouth with his first solid contact with Ferris. Ferris stopped in his tracks, spat out a mouthful of blood. Then he was charging back.

There was no reason to it. Dave thought. No logic, except that an animal-like contempt must be leveled off before Ferris would be made rational.

Ferris caught him twice in the midriff. Those blows twisted a gasp from his mouth. He took a fist against his cheekbone that spun him backward.

From somewhere — Dave was never aware of how Ferris had done it — vicious knuckles tore into his belly. Dave went down among the brush. He lay there thinking how Ferris would jump him and finish this in barroom fashion. The man had every opportunity as Dave lay there panting. But oddly Ferris waited.

Not until Dave climbed onto his feet did Ferris move against him. Then he came in on another rush. This time Dave side-stepped, and threw a long punch that carried all the strength of his back muscles. He struck Ferris squarely on the forehead.

He had Ferris stunned by that blow. Now he snapped a half dozen jabs to the middle. Ferris backed away. He sent a long, wide swing at Dave that missed. While his guard was open Dave clubbed him on the chin. Ferris' knees went slack. He fell in the brush and made no attempt to stand. He was out cold.

Tree Falls, Kills a Stamps Man

LEWISVILLE (UP) — A 62-year-old Stamps man died a few minutes after a tree fell on him as he was clearing timber three miles south of here yesterday.

Sheriff W. H. (Buck) Baker said the victim was John R. Kuykendall, an employee of the Lafayette County Roads Department.

Baker said a dead tree which Kuykendall was pushing over with a bulldozer fell on him. He died en route to Lafayette County Memorial Hospital.

Film Story of Africa's Mau Mau Uprising

The explosive drama of the Mau Mau uprising in Kenya, East Africa, and its effect on a family whose roots have been driven deep into the land of Africa for generations, forms the basis of M-G-M's big picture, "Something of Value."

Taken from the best-seller novel by Robert C. Ruark, the picture stars Rock Hudson, last seen in "Giant," with Dana Wynter, Sidney Poitier, of "Blackboard Jungle" fame, is cast in a pivotal role as a Kenya native who has been brought up at Hudson's friend's house. Other important roles are played by the British actress, Wendy Hiller, Juano Hernandez, who scored as the judge in "Trial," and William Marshall.

Richard Brooks, who directed, as well as wrote the screen play, went to Africa with a location unit to obtain complete authenticity in his backgrounds of the Mau Mau country, with scenes filmed in the 13,000-foot Aberdare Range, a section inhabited by lions, buffalo and rhino; the villages of Nanyuki and Nyeri in the shadow of the snow-capped 17,041-foot Mt. Kenya; and in the modern city of Nairobi. Producer, Pandro S. Berman, who teamed with Brooks on "Blackboard Jungle," also produced "Something of Value."

Tracing the rise of the dreaded Mau Mau organization, who vowed to erase the white man from Africa, the picture shows spine-tangling scenes of their attacks on the BEREA, Ky. — John L. Gay believes 47 years is long enough for him to serve as mayor of Berea, So., at the age of 92, he has announced he won't seek reelection in the November election. He is the only mayor the city ever had.

DALLAS — The prowlers who forced open the office safe at the Lee Slaughter Lumber Co. and found nothing would probably be doubly frustrated had they noticed a sign on the strongbox. It read: "This safe is not locked."

BONHAM, Tex. — Flu struck six regular carrier boys and their substitutes but it didn't interrupt delivery of the Bonham Daily Favorite. Publisher A. L. McAlister and three members of the news paper staff pitched in to make the deliveries.

CHICAGO — Some of the robbers stopping off at Brookfield Zoo on a binge, says Director Robert Dean, but he is going to do nothing about it. Dean said one robin, after eating fermented berries, tried to pick a fight with his image in a sidewalk puddle. Some of the robbers, he added, are just "sputtering" instead of singing.

DETROIT — Mrs. Edith Hall told police a thief took $6 from a purse which she had left on the porch of her home while she raked leaves. He threw away the purse, overlooking $2,170 hidden in a secret compartment.

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctica — Americans taking part in Antarctic expedition Deep Freeze III watched their last sunset until Feb. 20 Monday night. From now until Feb. 20 the sun will circle white settlers, the burning, looting and murder, and the native ceremonies of witchcraft and voodooism.

The conflict leaves its mark on Peter McKenzie (Rock Hudson), the young rancher forced by circumstances to become an avenger of the Mau Maus; on Holly (Dana Wynter), his wife; on Kimani (Sidney Poitier), Peter's native companion who becomes his enemy; and on a varied assortment of white settlers and Africans caught up in a blood bath of violence and savagery.

The African Mau uprising, only recently quelled by the British, has been in newspaper headlines for the past five years. M-G-M's depiction of this dramatic event in "Something of Value" makes for a powerfully engrossing motion picture.

Mary Martin Treating Fans as 'Annie'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — One thing leads to another and as a result Mary Martin is treating audiences nightly to one of the most exciting moments in the theater.

The moment comes in the first act of "Annie Get Your Gun" when Annie Oakley makes her big debut with Buffalo Bill's wild west show. The curtains part and there is Mary riding at full gallop on a white charger while shooting targets out of the air.

Television audiences will get to see the stirring feat on Thanks-giving eve, when Mary will star in "Annie" on a two-hour spectacular over NBC.

Probably no other top star would undertake such a stunt except Mary, whose devotion to the theater knows no bounds. And she wouldn't be doing it, except for a string of events.

Event No. 1: Mary's husband, Richard Halliday, remembered seeing in his youth "Ben Hur," which thrilled audiences with a chariot race on-stage via treadmills.

Event No. 2: The Gilbert Adrians Janet Gaynor told he Halliday about the joys of owning a ranch in the Brazilian interior. So Dick and Mary bought their own ranch nearby.

"The only way to get around down there was by horse," Mary said backstage before the evening performance at the Philharmonic Auditorium. "So we bought nine horses and we practically lived in the saddle from morning until night."

"It was the only riding I had done since I was a girl and had my own Shetland pony."

Halliday, who was producing "Annie" with Edwin Lester, went to work on the mechanics. He inspected the treadmills at the movie studios and found them lacking. The only treadmill that was suitable was one which was actually used in the old "Ben Hur" production. It was shipped out here from the East at a tidy figure. An elaborate mechanism was devised to carry off the stunt. The treadmill, which had been free-running, had to be equipped with an electric motor to get it started. Wires were attached to the horse in four places to prevent its getting off the track.

But still, the device wasn't fool-proof. When Mary and co-star John Raitt were posing for photos in San Francisco, the horse reared and sent the expensive talent tumbling on their — onto the stage.

Three horses and two cowboys are required for the stunt. Prince is used for Mary's gallop, and White Cloud carries Mary and Raitt for a walk at the finale. Another nag is required as a stand-in.

"Prince is getting to be a real ham," Mary said. "When he hears the music cue, he looks around the curtain to see if I am coming and he can hardly wait to get started."

China, disputing Russian claims, says it is the first nation to build a man-carrying flying machine. Ancient court records reveal that in 2258 B. C. a Chinese youth named Shun flew a glider consisting of two large reed huts.

Observatories in Sky Planned by the Navy

WASHINGTON (INS) — The U.S. Navy today announced it will launch sky observatories beginning next year to take photos and TV pictures of the sun, moon, Mars and the rest of the solar system.

The observatories will be both manned and unmanned. Some would be modest 10-mile high balloons; others would be 500-mile high telescope satellites that could orbit around the earth for 20 years.

Dr. Lyman Spitzer, Jr., of Princeton University said the program opens "a new era in astronomy" and might solve such questions as:

Are there really canals on Mars built by intelligent beings or have our earth-bound eyes merely been tricked into seeing regular lines on the Martian surface?

How are the hot hydrogen gases of the sun held together in a sustained thermonuclear reaction and how can man duplicate this feat in the laboratory?

Dr. Spitzer said this data would lead to the harnessing of the H-bomb fusion reaction for peaceful purposes. He is one of the leading scientists in project sherwood, the U. S. H-bomb harnessing program.

What are conditions like on Saturn, Venus and other planets in our solar system? Dr. Spitzer said the sky observatories would give man his first look at the universe "without the distorting effect of earth's blanket of air."

The sky observatories are part of project Skyhook, sponsored by the office of naval research.

One aspect of the program calls for manned balloon flights timed for Mars' next close approach to its neighbor earth in late 1958.

The balloons would go to 80,000 feet, above the atmosphere. It would carry one or two men and a 16-inch telescopic camera.

No one has been chosen for the task as yet but two names have been mentioned: Navy Lt. Cmdr. Malcolm Ross of Arlington, Va., who has made similar flights, and the camera's designer, Prof. John Strong of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

Next step would be the launching of unmanned balloons beginning

Plenty Long Woollen Drawers for WRAC

LONDON — The British War Office admits it has enough long woollen drawers to last the Women's Royal Army Corps for the next 800 years.

The matter was raised during a hearing by a parliamentary committee which published its report yesterday.

In response to questions, Sir Edward Playfair, permanent undersecretary of state for the War Office, conceded there was "an enormous surplus" of "women's pants, woollen, long." The girls just won't wear them, even in dead of winter.

Victor Collins, a Laborite member of Parliament, suggested the elastic, if any, in such drawers would be bound to deteriorate long before the War Office could get them issued out. "Do these drawers have elastic?" he asked.

"I think they are without elastic," Sir Edward replied. "I have not probed far enough into them to say."

In the summer of 1959, they would carry 12 or 16-inch telescopic tele-

TELEPHONE TALK

By Vance Smiley, Wire Chief, Hope, Ark.

COMMUNITY PROGRESS

Some months ago the people of Bodaw, our neighbors to the southeast, approached us in regard to furnishing them telephone service. Since the cost of building enough new lines into Hope to serve these people was prohibitive, we made a house to house survey of the town and surrounding community, and found some 140 potential subscribers.

To make a long story short we have bought a lot between Mr. Cassidys store and the Baptist church, have let the contract for a building, which will house the same type dial equipment as we have here in Hope. The engineers are at work on the prints to place the poles and wire and before too many more months we hope these people will have a complete new telephone system with direct lines to our exchange.

FOOTBALL FUN

Another football season is underway. If there are any fans around your house, it's likely that the radio and television sets will be working overtime for the next few months bringing the games into your homes. It's the next best to having a 50-yard line seat.

Maybe you've never realized it, but the telephone company plays an important part in bringing you these football broadcasts, as well as other radio and television programs you enjoy. We handle the transmission of programs from distant places for your enjoyment.

Telephone engineers have worked hard over the years to improve these facilities. Today we use both cable and microwave networks to transmit these broadcasts.

And, of course, improved transmission means more pleasure from the programs for you.

This is another example of how the telephone company always seeks to bring you improved communications — in radio, television on a local telephone, call across town, or a Long Distance call across the nation.

Getting back to football, have you attended any of Hope's games this season? If not, why don't you plan to be at the next one? Better still, go to all the football games this year. You'll enjoy them and the team will appreciate your support.

HOW MANY STEPS DOES A MARCHING BAND TAKE?

I've often wondered how much distance a marching band covers during a halftime performance at a football game.

I'm sure each band member takes hundreds of steps — every one of them important to keeping the group in perfect formation.

You probably take hundreds of steps during a normal day around your house, too. But unlike the band member, many of your steps are just "extra walking."

For instance, how many times a day do you walk from the bedroom or kitchen to answer the telephone in the living room?

You don't need to know. Extension telephones in your home can cut down on room-to-room travel for you and your family — save you valuable time — give you more phone privacy, too.

And if you live on the farm, extension phones in the barn and other outside buildings can help make your daily chores easier and more pleasant.

Extension telephones are available now in lovely decorator colors, as well as black. The cost is low — just $1.00 a month, plus a one-time charge for installation and colors other than black.

Call the Telephone Business Office today and let us help you plan extension phones for your home.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.
